Greenwood High School
Lemon Springs, N. C.

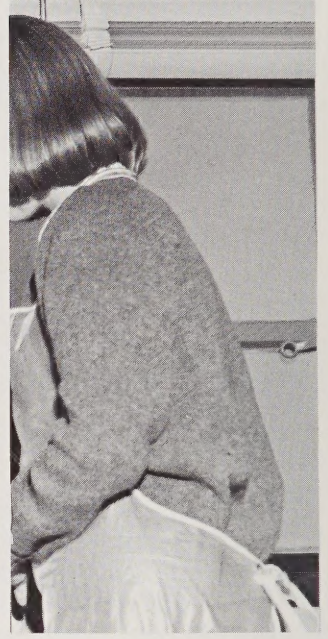

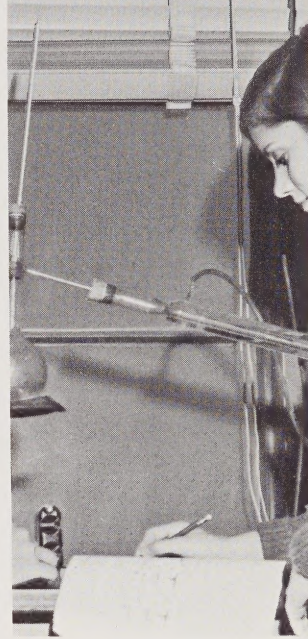

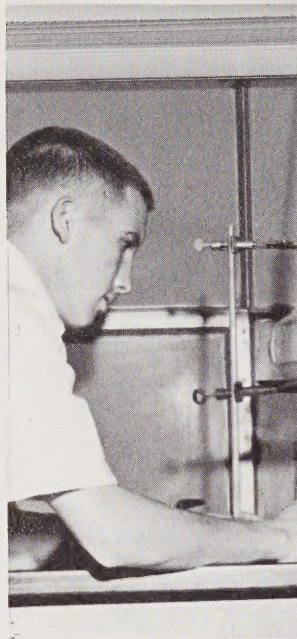

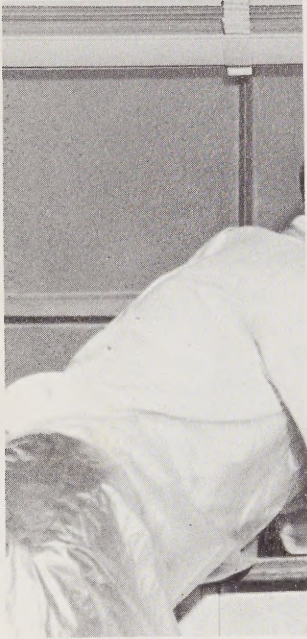

FOREWORD

We feel that borrowing words from another yearbook to write this foreword would be meaningless to you. The thoughts that come to all of our minds when we think of Greenwood are hard to express.

We hope that in years to come when you take this yearbook from your keepsakes in the attic, these thoughts will once more come to your minds, stimulating a smile to your lips and perhaps a tear to your eye.

DEDICATIONS

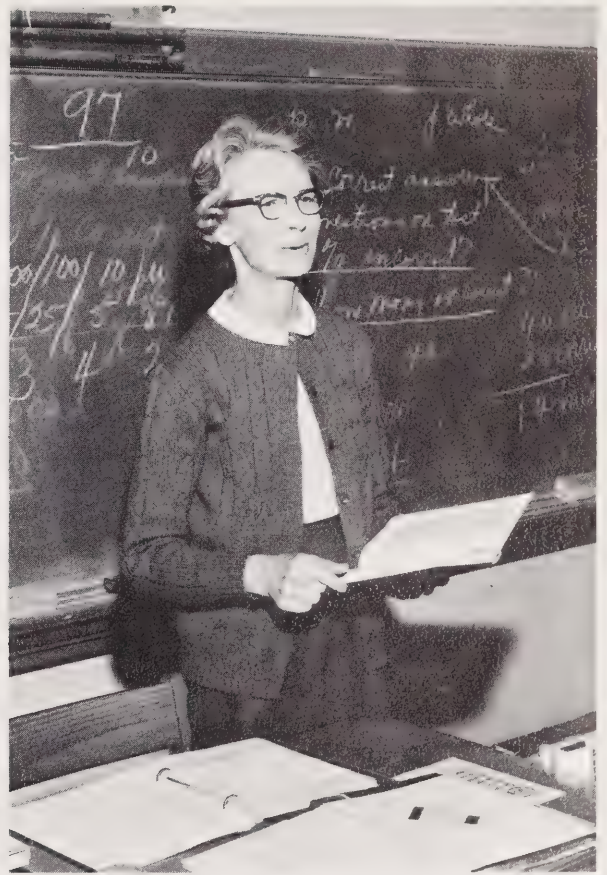

We, the Annual Staff, lovingly dedicate the 1967 Pine Cone to Mrs. Martha Adams and Mrs. Elizabeth Shankle in honor of the time and helpfulness they have given to the students of Greenwood.

Known to all for her thoughtfulness and patience, she is never too busy with her important work to help someone with his smallest problem.

More than a school secretary, she is teacher, friend, mother, counselor and public relations officer of the school. Her winning personality in handling many of the small details of everyday school life, contribute much to the total school operation.

At the end of a hard day, her 3:15 good-by is as warm and meaningful as her 8:15 hello.

The job of preparing a student for high school is no easy one. It demands a responsible teacher with an earnest desire to understand and help each individual. We think Mrs. Shankle is this person.

A conscientious hard-working, and dependable lady, she sets a fine example for her students and teaches them the importance of doing a job well the first time. A friendly and pleasant person, she instills in her students a desire to learn and the importance of not putting off tomorrow what should be done today.

ADMINISTRATION—FACULTY

Through our administration we realize the need for higher educational standards, and are guided toward these with the able leaders our school possesses. They listen to opinions and plan for our benefit. With their co-operation many worthwhile things develop.
